

Centre for Developing-Area Studies
Centre d'études sur les régions en développement

NEWSLETTER ~ Fall 2003 Automne ~ BULLETIN
 McGill University, 3715 Peel, Montréal (Québec) H3A 1X1
 adm.cdas@mcgill.ca www.mcgill.ca/cdas

CELEBRATING CDAS' 40th ANNIVERSARY 1963-2003

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE ~ MESSAGE DE LA DIRECTION

Once again, I am pleased to welcome many new Fellows to the CDAS community, including four Graduate Interns selected as part of the Montreal Inter-University Initiative, all described more fully in this Newsletter. The diversity of their research interests and their background experience bring considerable enrichment to all our scholarly activities. Several Fellows have described their recent research in this Newsletter. Other Fellows will give presentations on their research in progress during the term. Other seminars are organized as part of our Inter-University Faculty Seminar Series and others with co-sponsoring groups. I also want to draw attention to the international Conference on Gender and Human Security that we are organizing for February 2004. All of these events and more are listed on the CDAS website.

We are particularly pleased that Professor Marwan Bishara from the American University in Paris will begin our Distinguished Seminar Series "Militarism and Contested Identities: Resolving Conflict in a Globalized World". He will give a presentation on 4 November entitled "Israel, America and the War on Terrorism". Prof. Bishara has published extensively on the Middle East and is especially well known for his path-breaking book Palestine/Israel: Peace or Apartheid? published in 2001 by Zed Press and translated into seven additional languages. This book is available in Montreal from Fernwood. For further information please contact eileen@fernwoodbooks.ca.

Finally, I wish to express my thanks to Fariba Dashtgard for her work last year as Administrative Assistant here at CDAS. Fariba has joined the International Journalism diploma course in Cardiff, Wales and I look forward to her future contribution to the international media world. I also wish to welcome her replacement, Ceri Au, to the CDAS and to express my gratitude to the dedicated staff of CDAS for the outstanding work that they continue to do.

Dr Rosalind Boyd
 CDAS Director

Contents

Gender and Human Security Conference	2
Gutkind Library	3
Montreal Inter-University Initiative	3
CDAS Fellows	4
CDAS Upcoming Events	8
CDAS Staff	10

Table des matières

Conférence Genre et Sécurité Humaine
Bibliothèque Gutkind
Initiative Interuniversitaire de Montréal
Membres Associés du CERD
Événements à venir
Les employés du CERD

CONFERENCE ON GENDER AND HUMAN SECURITY

5, 6 and 7 February 2004

The Centre for Developing-Area Studies (CDAS), McGill University is organizing an international conference on Gender and Human Security from 5-7 February 2004, which will address human security from the perspective of the rights and needs of people in societies confronted by political violence. For the past three years, in partnership with the Women's Centre of Montréal and other universities, CDAS has carried out a research program on gender and human security in the context of war and reconstruction. Our team of researchers and community activists are working locally with women refugees and immigrants in Montreal from various countries of armed conflict and internationally with women's organizations primarily in the Great Lakes region of Africa.

Globally, war-torn societies and armed conflicts are producing more internally displaced persons, refugees and immigrants than ever before, many of whom are women coming to Canada in pursuit of a new life with personal security. During armed conflicts, community-level violence and its consequences (violent crimes against women, refugee movements) indicate that gender is central to the struggle against insecurity. Combining human security and gender allows us to examine among other issues the impact of gender inequality on the continued insecurity in societies affected by conflict and its aftermath.

Accordingly, the goal of our Conference is to examine security issues not only in Africa but also in Canada and other parts of the world where the search for peace often seems elusive. CDAS proposes to bring together participants from both the academic and community milieu whose research or action-research will contribute to the elaboration of intervention strategies addressing security issues in conflict and post-conflict situations.

We invite those interested in making a presentation at the Conference to submit their provisional title and brief abstract (80 words) to the CDAS in English or in French (pub.cdas@mcgill.ca) by 10 November 2003. Full papers (30 pages or 8,000 words) should be sent by 15 January 2004. The CDAS plans to publish a book developed from the presentations given at the Conference.

Pour connaître les réalisations du programme GESH, veuillez visiter son nouveau site internet : www.gesh-ghsi.ca

To learn more about the CDAS program on Gender and Human Security, please visit www.gesh-ghsi.ca

CDAS Director Rosalind Boyd was an invited speaker at two recent conferences related to her research as Director and Principal Investigator of the CDAS' gender and human security program financed by SSHRC. In August, she presented on "Masculinity, men and gender in security discussions" as part of the two-day Conference Canadian Perspectives on Security, Conflict and Gender: Advancing Research, Advocacy and Policy held at the Centre for International and Security Studies, York University, Toronto and organized by the Gender and Peacebuilding Working Group, the Canadian Committee on Women, Peace and Security, the Canadian Research Institute for the Advancement of Women and the Canadian Consortium on Human Security.

In mid-October, she attended a two-day Symposium in Berlin entitled Human Security=Women's Security? No sustainable security without a gender perspective. She gave a presentation on "The Canadian Human Security Approach: A Gender-Sensitive Strategy?" for the Closing Panel. The Symposium was organized by the Feminist Institute of the Heinrich Boll Foundation in collaboration with the Friedrich Ebert Foundation and the Women's Security Council, Berlin, Germany. The Feminist Institute organized an additional enriching program for the five foreign visitors during the week.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE GUTKIND LIBRARY

The Gutkind Library, Québec's only academic research library on the developing world and North-South relations, is open for interested students, scholars and the general public this fall with a vast array of the latest development literature. Because of the very successful publications exchange program which CDAS operates through its journal LABOUR, Capital and Society, hundreds of periodicals, monographs and research reports come regularly to the Gutkind Library. A complete list of recent acquisitions can always be found on the CDAS website at www.mcgill.ca/cdas/list.pdf. Visitors this fall to the Gutkind Library might find the following publications to be of interest: Marga Journal, a Sri Lankan periodical focusing upon development policy issues, is back after a prolonged absence due to recent turmoil in that South Asian nation. We welcome the Marga Institute back to our community of scholars. We have also recently acquired an interesting collection of development papers from the Institute of International Studies in Copenhagen. The IIS results from the merger of the Centre for Development Research, a long time CDAS exchange partner, with several other Danish research institutes this year. We certainly hope that the IIS is as productive and as progressive in its research as the CDR was.

Professor Catherine LeGrand, of McGill's Department of History, very thoughtfully donated to the Gutkind Library a collection of books, periodicals and assorted documents from Nicaragua and Central America in the 1980s. Such material from this "revolutionary" phase of Central America's history will doubtlessly be very useful to present and future scholars. Once this "LeGrand Collection" is thoroughly catalogued and archived it will be made available to researchers.

Another recent acquisition of note is a collection of policy papers from the Canadian HIV/AIDS Legal Network, which are certainly applicable to current studies of the pandemic and strategies to combat it in the developing world. Finally, we continue to receive a significant quantity of research publications from the Centre for Development Studies in Trivandrum and its Kerala Research Programme for Local Level Development. These papers should be of great interest to anyone studying local level and rural development issues in South Asia.

The Gutkind Library will remain open throughout the fall term from 10 am to 5 pm, Tuesday to Friday. For any reference questions or further information, please do not hesitate to contact the librarian at 398-3509, or via email at doc.cdas@mcgill.ca

-Iain Blair, Librarian at CDAS

MONTREAL INTER-UNIVERSITY INITIATIVE IN INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

L'INITIATIVE INTERUNIVERSITAIRE À MONTREAL EN DEVELOPPEMENT

The Montreal Inter-University Initiative in International Development Studies is now entering its fourth year of programming thanks to the generous funding support of IDRC. One of the main components of the program is a team of four graduate student interns chosen, from the Montreal universities, to participate in CDAS research activities. They will also develop an aspect of their thesis through CDAS methodology workshops and other resources.

Grâce au généreux financement du CRDI, L'Initiative interuniversitaire en développement internationale à Montréal entame sa quatrième année. Les stages de recherche offerts à un groupe d'étudiants de cycles supérieurs, choisis auprès des quatre universités à Montréal, représentent un des éléments principaux du programme. En plus, de participer aux activités du CERD, ces étudiants développent également un aspect de leur thèse grâce à des ateliers de méthodologie et plusieurs autres ressources mises à leur disposition.

-Siran Nahabedian, Montreal Inter-University Coordinator

STAGIAIRES AU CERD / CDAS INTERNS

The Inter-University Initiative program offers the interns a broader exposure to the workings of a research centre through participating in the publication of the CDAS journal, Labour Capital and Society/ Travail, capital et société, working with CDAS faculty, attending interdisciplinary seminars, and using the multidimensional resources of the CDAS library. Congratulations and welcome to the four interns chosen by the Selection Committee. The interns for September 2003- March 2004 are:

- Benoît Galaise, Maîtrise en géographie, UQAM. Le réseautage intersyndical en Amérique du Nord suite à l'A.L.É.N.A.
- Hannah Gilbert, Ph.D in Medical Anthropology, McGill University. HIV therapy in West Africa: Local Strategies and Global Inequalities
- Houssine Ihnach, Maîtrise en sciences économiques, Université de Montréal. Le libre-échange et la compétitivité de l'économie marocaine.
- Marie Mazalto, Ph.D en sociologie, UQAM. La gouvernance mondiale de l'eau: le cas bolivien.

NEW CDAS PUBLICATION

Struggles in the Americas: The Emergence of a New Civil Society, Conference Presentations from the Hemispheric Civil Society Conference at the CDAS (19-21 February 2003), eds. R. Boyd and S.J. Noumoff (Montreal: CDAS, 2003) is now available to purchase for $20. The purpose of the conference was to engage in an open dialogue on how civil society can be strengthened in order to build hemispheric networks and reinforce solidarity among civil society groups. This volume consists of 11 written presentations that represent a wide variety of viewpoints and cover the main spectrum of the current discourse. To order a copy, please e-mail pub.cdas@mcgill.ca, or visit the CDAS main office.

NEW CDAS FELLOWS 2003 / NOUVEAUX MEMBRES DU CERD 2003

The Centre for Developing-Area Studies would like to welcome the new Fellows to the CDAS community. The complete list of CDAS Fellows is available on our website: www.mcgill.ca/cdas.

Jasinta Achen Hyachits, Student Fellow

Program: MSc Nutrition, School of the Environment, McGill University

Interests: Zinc content of Ugandan foods and the nutritional status of HIV children 1-8 years of age. HIV/AIDS effects on development; the correlation between labour shortages and food security.

Alberto Alvarez, Associate Fellow

Program: LLD, Faculty of Law, University of Ottawa

Interests: Responsible management of industrial sector in developing world that seeks to mitigate exploitation of the working poor and improve their overall condition, with a focus on Colombian industry.

Kim Armstrong, Student Fellow

Program: PhD, Department of Anthropology, McGill University

Interests: Displaced persons management with focus on Ugandan conflict with LRA.

Nicole Baerg, Student Fellow

Program: MA, Department of Economics, McGill University,

Interests: Impact of balance of payments crisis on growth and poverty reduction strategies in emerging markets; in addition to the impact of official development assistance on real and nominal exchange rates and the balance of trade.

Prof. Aomar Boukhezar, Associate Fellow

Program: Faculté des sciences économiques et de gestion Université d'Alger

Interests: l'économie du monde arabe

Flannery Brown, Student Fellow

Program: MA, Department of Political Science, McGill University.

Interests: The macro and micro level repercussions of Hindu nationalism and communal violence; the destabilization of the Indian subcontinent and social upheaval.

Abdul Aziz Choudry, Associate Fellow

Program: MA, Special Individualized Program, Concordia University.

Interests: Ideas and strategies adopted by NGOs and social movements confronting neoliberal "development" model, with focus on Asia-Pacific

Taline Djerdjarian, Associate Fellow

Program: PhD, Department of Humanities, Concordia University.

Interests: Local interpretations and opportunities in globalization and the internalization of production and consumption with emphasis on Egypt and Armenia.

Christian Thomas Krelling, Student Fellow

Program: MA, Department of Economics, McGill University.

Interests: Sustainable development and environmental economics, balance between growth and preservation of the environment; environmental and resource management in the developing world.

Shahzad Hussain, Associate Fellow

Program: MA, Interdisciplinary Studies Program in History, Film Studies and Narrative Literature, Concordia University

Interests: Nationalism and Gender in India, Indian partition Film

Nicole Labossiere, Student Fellow

Program: PhD, Department of Political Science, McGill University.

Interests: World food markets; food security and how it is affected by the economy and corporate behaviour; role of patents, international intellectual property rights, and biotechnology in controlling food markets and access to food.

Sandra Lizardo, Associate Fellow

Program: Academic Trainee as Sauvé Scholarship recipient, McGill University

Interests: Educational communication media in the developing world for the promotion of "Peace Culture" targeted at children and adolescents, with emphasis on Peru.

Maltez, Rosa-Amelia, Associate Fellow

Program: 2ieme Cycle, Université de Montréal / SOS El Salvador

Interests: La mondialisation et ses effets sur la culture et l'identité des peuples autochtones et métis de l'Amérique centrale.

Misra, Preeti, Associate Fellow

Program: PhD, Centre for Political Studies, Jawahar Lal Nehru University, India.

Interests: Gender, poverty and environmental issues in India, and the West Indies

Jane Newton, Associate Fellow

Program: MA, European University for Peace Studies (EPU), Austria.

Interests: Peace Education touching upon a broad range of areas such as human security, governance and development, with an emphasis on language and communication.

Lucas Neville, Student Fellow

Program: MA, Department of Political Science, McGill University.

Interests: Peacekeeping and ethnic conflict, the connection between economic disparity, entrepreneurship, employment patterns and ethnic conflict.

Marc Perry, Associate Fellow

Program: PhD, Department of Anthropology, University of Texas at Austin.

Interests: Cuban hip hop, race and social transition in contemporary Cuba

Jacob Ritzler, Student Fellow

Program: MA, Islamic Studies, McGill University.

Interests: Arab-Israeli resource conflict: the role of water, and the role of culture in the management of natural resources

Rebecca Sanders, Student Fellow

Program: MA, Department of Political Science, McGill University.

Interests: How group solidarities change in relation to alterations in state policies and structural inequalities; how political theorizing in the developing world has adapted to these changes with focus on the South African case study.

Mohammed Sadek Sulaiman, Student Fellow

Program: MA, Department of Economics, McGill University.

Interests: Labour migration in the Middle East and South Asia, globalization in the Middle Eastern context.

Liam Swiss, Student Fellow

Program: PhD, Department of Sociology, McGill University.

Interests: Gender equality policy and programming with a focus on the treatment of men and masculinity within so-called "Gender and Development" approaches to promoting gender equality; development as a human right; the development/security nexus, donor/recipient relations; performance evaluation.

Luis Van Isschot, Student Fellow

Program: PhD, Department of History, McGill University

Interests: Political Violence and Armed Conflict in Colombia

Karine Vanthuyne, Associate Fellow

Program: PhD, Ecole des hautes études en sciences sociales (EHESS) Paris, France

Interests: Post-war reconstruction process in Guatemala, humanitarian interventions in post-war contexts, the politics of identity, Pan-Maya movement.

CDAS FELLOWS RESEARCH / RECHERCHES DES MEMBRES DU CERD

Omar Ashour is a PhD candidate in the Department of Political Science at McGill. The summary of his MA thesis "Security, Oil and Internal Politics: The causes of the Russian-Chechen Conflicts" is going to be published in Studies in Conflict and Terrorism Journal. Another recent work entitled "Women and Islamist Movements in the Caucasus and Central Asia" is going to be published in the Encyclopedia on Women and Islamic Cultures. In October, Omar presented a paper entitled "Ballots, Bullets and 'Civil Harmony': Comparing the cases of the Front Islamique du Salut (FIS) in Algeria and the Islamic Renaissance Party (IRP) in Tajikistan."

Natacha Gagné, Student Fellow is a PhD candidate in the Department of Anthropology at McGill. She is currently finishing her dissertation on the everyday experiences, identities and autonomy among Auckland Maaori. Her article "Identité et souveraineté dans un monde en changement: Le cas des Maaori de Aotearoa, Nouvelle-Zélande" was published in Des sociétés en mutation (2003, P. Beaucage et J-P Dupuis. (eds.), Québec, Nota Bene: 133-159. Natacha will present a paper in November at the American Anthropology Association in Chicago entitled "My House is like a Marae: Towards a Theoretical Analysis of Maaori Social Relationships in the City."

Mario Gonzalez, Associate Fellow works at Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada, in Ottawa. In the last twelve months Mario has been working on agricultural trade and development issues, monitoring and providing advice on Canadian policies regarding the implementation of World Trade Organization Ministerial decisions. He has also provided support in the development of Canadian positions on special agricultural trade. In addition, he has been working on food security and on agriculture trade-related capacity building policies. His area of interest remains economic policy and development policies based on participatory approaches.

J. Andrew Grant, Associate Fellow is the new CDAS Fellows' Coordinator and will be assisted in this capacity by Diane Cousineau. Andrew spent three months this summer conducting field research in Sierra Leone, Botswana, and South Africa as part of his PhD dissertation work on conflict diamonds and the global diamond industry. In July 2003, Andrew received a Stein Rokkan Award at the XIXth International Political Science Association (IPSA) World Congress, which sponsored promising junior scholars to attend and present their research at the conference in Durban, South Africa. Andrew also received a Canadian Consortium on Human Security (CCHS) – Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT) Human Security Doctoral Fellowship for 2003-04. Andrew's co-edited book (with Fredrik Söderbaum) entitled, The New Regionalism in Africa, will be published by Ashgate in November 2003.

Jackie Kirk, Student Fellow is a PhD candidate in the Faculty of Education at McGill. She recently published, in collaboration with Stephanie Garrow, "Girls in Policy: Challenges for the Education Sector." Agenda No. 56, 2003.

Minakshi Menon, Associate Fellow is at the University of California, San Diego this year, where she is writing up her doctoral dissertation on early nineteenth century colonial natural history. She is delighted at the opportunity to interact with the Science Studies faculty at UCSD, and even more so at the absence of winter clothing from her wardrobe! She remains devoted to Montreal however, and looks forward to returning to sub-zero temperatures without and the warm congeniality of CDAS within, as soon as she can!

Crystal Procyshen (MA McGill '03) is currently studying for an MA in Public Admin. in Tokyo, Japan as a Rotary World Peace Scholar. She recently published an article on Canada-Middle East relations with the Institute for Research in Public Policy and has two encyclopedia entries forthcoming in 2004. The September '03 special edition of Macleans featured her as one of 50 young Canadians to watch.

Alfredo L. de Romana, Associate Fellow presented a paper in October at the Canadian Society for Ecological Economics (CANSEE) conference in Jasper, BC entitled "Sharing Nature – Land Usufruct as Basic Income."

Kameel Virjee, Student Fellow, has been busy this fall attending conferences. In September he attended the 1st Annual Conference of the Organization of Caribbean Regulators, in Port of Spain, Trinidad and presented his work "Results of a Willingness to pay for Water, Wastewater and Electricity Services Study." Later in October, Kameel presented his paper entitled "Water Supply Provision with Private Sector Participation: A Case Study of Trinidad" at the 11th Annual International Water Resources Association Congress in Madrid, Spain.

UPCOMING CDAS EVENTS / ÉVÉNEMENTS À VENIR AU CERD

8 October : Ad Hoc Seminar

« The Palestinian Refugees, Yesterday and Today »

Prof. Rex Brynen, McGill University and Nada Sefian, Women in Black

CDAS Seminar Room, 12h30-14h00

Co-Sponsored with the Refugee Research Project

16 October : Ad Hoc Seminar

« Israel's Security Fence or Apartheid Wall »

Diana Buttu, Legal Advisor to the Palestinian National Authority, and Oren Medicks, Peace Activist

Moot Court, Chancellor Day Hall, 16h00

Co-sponsored with the McGill Radical Law Community

23 October : Inter-University Faculty Seminar

« A Bazaar and Two Regimes : Governance and Mobilization in Tehran's Marketplace (1963-Present) »

Prof. Arang Keshavarzian, Concordia University

CDAS Seminar Room, 12h30-14h00

25 October: Ad Hoc Seminar

« The MST and the Agrarian Question in Contemporary Brazil »

Joao Pedro Stedile, Leader of the Brazilian Landless Rural Workers' Movement (MST)

UQAM Ecole des sciences de gestion, salle 130, 14h00

Co-sponsored with CASID, Development and Peace and UQAM

4 November : Distinguished Seminar Series

« Israel, America and the War on Terrorism »

Prof. Marwan Bishara, American University in Paris
Leacock 219, 6h00-19h30

6 November : CDAS Fellows Seminar

« L'intégration des droits de la personne aux Accords de développement : le cas de l'Accord de Cotonou »
Martin Gallié, candidat au doctorat à l'Université de Montréal, membre associé du CERD
CDAS Seminar Room, 12h30-14h00

11 November : Ad Hoc Seminar

«The Politics of HIV/AIDS : A Critical Assessment of UN AIDS and World Bank Prescriptions»
Prof. James Putzel, Director of the Development Research Centre, London School of Economics
CDAS Seminar Room, 12h30-14h00

13 November: CDAS Fellows Seminar

« La protection des droits de la personne et des droits de la femme : le cas des femmes victimes de violences socioculturelles et sexuelles durant les guerres en République du Congo »
Prof. Pascale Musulay Mukonde, fondateur d'Espace avenir, membre associé du CERD
CDAS Seminar Room, 12h30-14h00

17 November: Ad Hoc Seminar

«From the Killing Fields to Human Rights: An Unfinished Journey»
Peter Leuprecht, Special Representative of the Secretary-General of the United Nations for Human Rights in Cambodia and former McGill Dean of Law
Moot Court, New Chancellor Day Hall, 16h00

19 November: CDAS Fellows Seminar

«African Conflict Diamonds »
J. Andrew Grant, PhD Candidate at Dalhousie University, CDAS Fellows Coordinator
CDAS Seminar Room, 12h30-14h00

26 November: Inter-University Faculty Seminar

«To Save Human Lives: Humanitarian Intervention and Relations Between Civilians and Combatants»
Prof. Marie-Joelle Zahar, Université de Montréal
CDAS Seminar Room, 12h30-14h00

22 January: Ad Hoc Seminar

“International Aid in South Africa.”
Prof. Lisa Bornstein, School of Urban Planning, McGill University
CDAS Seminar Room, 12h30-14h00

5-7 February: 2004 Conference on Gender and Human Security

25 March: Inter-University Faculty Seminar

“Muslim Youth in Côte d'Ivoire in the 1990s”.
Prof. Marie-Nathalie Leblanc, Concordia University
CDAS Seminar Room, 12h30-14h00

CDAS STAFF ~ LES EMPLOYES DU CERD

Ceri Au Administrative Assistant

Ceri completed her undergraduate degree at McGill in Political Science and Modern History. She has been working at the CDAS since August in the position of CDAS Administrative Assistant.

adm.cdas@mcgill.ca or 398-3507

Andrew Bauer-Gador Work Study Student

Andrew is a U2 student at McGill in Economics and International Development Studies. Since the end of September, he has been assisting with the distribution of CDAS publications as part of McGill's Work/Study program.

Iain Blair Documentalist

Iain is a professional librarian with degrees from UBC and McGill, and is a member of the Corporation of Professional Librarians of Quebec. Mr. Blair has been the CDAS Documentalist since 1990.

doc.cdas@mcgill.ca 398-3509

Suzanne Boutin Program Coordinator, Gender and Human Security Issues Program

Suzanne a fait sa Maitrise en philosophie à l'Université de Concordia. Elle est présentement Coordinatrice du programme Genre et enjeux human sécurité et en charge de la distribution de la revue Travail, capital et société.

pub.cdas@mcgill.ca or 398-1608

J. Andrew Grant Fellows Coordinator

Andrew is a PhD candidate at Dalhousie University. He is currently completing his dissertation on African Conflict Diamonds.

andgrant@dal.ca or 398-3507

Siran Nahabedian Montreal Inter-University Initiative Coordinator

Siran completed her Masters degree at McGill in Political Science on Indigenous Movements in Bolivia and Ecuador. Since the summer of 2002, she has been coordinating inter-university activities such as the internship program, faculty seminars and the CDAS website as part of the Montreal Inter-University Initiative Program funded by the IDRC.

iuc.cdass@mcgill.ca or 398-1608

COME JOIN US FOR CHAI

VENEZ NOUS REJOINDRE POUR LA PAUSE « CHAI »

Every Wednesday at 3:15pm ~ Chaque mercredi à 15h15

Researchers, Fellows, faculty and visitors are invited to the CDAS for tea, coffee and informal discussion.

Les chercheurs, les membres, les professeurs et visiteurs sont invités au CERD pour un moment de discussion informelle autour d'un thé et un café.

